

Sea of ideas in the middle of a world of exchanges

Euro-Mediterranean partnership building activity

19 to 24 January 2014 in Marseille, France

The Mediterranean sea, sea in the middle of land, is the inspiration for our meeting of Euro-Mediterranean actors of the youth sector working on the topic of educational mobility. This project is open to 30 participants of different Euro-Mediterranean countries. This meeting is a unique opportunity to establish new partnerships and strengthen our existing partnerships for the construction of international youth exchanges within the framework of the Youth in Action Program 3.1. - Youth in the world.

This space will allow participants to share, discover and discuss the opportunities and challenges of their cooperations in the Euro-Mediterranean region. Promote the establishment of partnerships and networking of associations active in the field of youth and mobility also facilitates mobility and participation of Euro-Mediterranean youth.

Objective:

- Share best practices and approved methods
- Exchange on pedagogical and organizational approaches of our projects
- Develop concret youth project ideas in the frame of educational mobility
- Facilitate networking between actors of the youth sector in the Euro-Mediterranean region

This meeting will be accompanied by a team with a long experience in the development of international and intercultural youth meetings and trainings. The working languages are French, Arabic and English. It is open to actors of the youth sector who wish to find new partners for the implementation of their project ideas as well as to benefit from a space allowing an in depth exchange between professionals active in educational mobility projects.

The program will consist of plenary sessions, visits of youth organizations, open project markets, theoretical and practical workshops proposed by the pedagogical team as well as the participants.
